MCCASH SPEAKER

Local Pastor Delivers Baccalaureate Sermon For High School

Ada dedicated herself to the opening of commencement week program here yesterday when College degree life certificate and diploma classes as well as the senior class of Ada high school heard the advice of church men in the baccalaureate sermons of Sunday morning and Sunday evening.

In the Sunday morning services, degree, life certificate and diploma classes of East Central listened to the advice of the pulpits to those going out into the world with completion of required work at East Central, while Sunday night's services brought 56 seniors from Ada high school under the voice of Rev. H. W. Wallace, pastor of the First Christian church of Ada, for the annual baccalaureate sermon.

Both College and High school baccalaureate services were held at Ada's new Convention Hall, which was packed to the doors on main floor and balcony at morning and evening services to hear the words of cheer to the graduates. The convenience of the Convention Hall in being centrally located is believed to be one of the causes for large audiences at both services.

While hundreds of friends and relatives looked on, 26 members of the College degree class, 132 members of the College life certificate class and 49 members of the College diploma class moved down the aisles of the Convention Hall to the strain of the processional to reserved seats where the remarks of Dr. I. N. McCash, president of Phillips university at Enid, were directed to their interest.

The musical numbers for the baccalaureate services were rendered by members of the East Central glee club and the College orchestra. McCash is speaker.

The remarks of Doctor McCash dealt with the sustaining influence of the young men of tomorrow, graduates of the schools of today. Following out the theme of the scripture reading, Dr. McCash pointed out the future that holds destructive elements for society and stressed the fact that men and women of tomorrow must compose the stabilizing force that puts to rout all harmful sediment on society.

Doctor McCash stressed his point with confining life to three circles, the lesser circle containing the material things of life; the larger circle comprising the moral forces of life and the last, and embracing the other two, the spiritual. The speaker declared the three to be necessary and stressed, especially the need of the spiritual in the life of the graduate.

Doctor McCash took issue on the remarks of President Butler of Columbia university of New York concerning his remarks opposing prohibition.

The high school baccalaureate address Sunday evening delivered by Rev. H. W. Wallace was as equally generously attended. His remarks dealt with advice to the 56 high school students who completed the first lap of the race for educational preparedness.

TWO FACTORS HINGE SOLVING OF MYSTERY

(By the Associated Press)
HARRISBURG, Pa., May 15.—Upon a battered leaden bullet and a worn notebook state police and county officials today pinned the hope of solving the mystery of the killing of Harry Ganster, a Marysville high school student, and Miss Ellenberger, a Hollidaysburg teacher, found shot to death at Lamb's Gap early Saturday.

The bullet taken from the body of the girl was that which killed both her and her companion as they were preparing to return here after picking wild flowers on Blue mountain. It was made for and old type rifle. In the notebook found in the boy's pocket he had detailed many happenings and secrets of his life and addresses of moonshiners numerous in the mountains in which he was killed. State police reconstructed his wanderings from the book last night and endeavored to get a clue to some moonshiner who might have killed him out of revenge. Neither developed any material facts.

Miners Walk Out In Protest Over Orders For Lamp

(By the Associated Press)
McALESTER, May 19.—Approximately 800 miners were idle at Hartshorne following refusal to go to work Monday after an order was posted by state Mine Inspector Ed J. Boyle forbidding the use of any electric cap lights but authorizing carbide lamps in the mines of Oklahoma. The Rock Island Coal and Mining company, rejected the order and refused to admit the open type of lamp.

Rock Island company officials declared that their mines will remain idle indefinitely should the temporary order of the state mine inspector be made permanent. The miners protest the electric lamps on the ground that the batteries weighing six pounds are too heavy to carry upon the hip and that the lamps have so small focus that they interfere with their labor.

SHRINERS READY FOR K. C. JOURNEY

Local Delegates to Advertise
Ada Through Special
Train to Meet

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—Kansas City's 100,000 party is getting nearer. Its citizens are beginning to realize that there will be a human inundation on June 3, 4 and 5. A suddenly rising tide of 100,000 joyous strangers, jamming every hotel. Fantastical uniformed companies and bands and marching song clubs congesting the streets, drilling like mad automatons and rocking the buildings with jumping music and pulsating song.

To meet this extraordinary flood of gorgeous and friendly strangers, Kansas City must presto! charge over night, as it were, from its usual appearance to a fantastic Mecca of red, yellow and green pillars and pyramids and obelisk and gonzalons and streamers, illuminated by night like the city of a dream. Such will be the prodigious picture.

The delegation of Shriners from Ada, who will attend the annual convocation of the Imperial Council at Kansas City, will have headquarters in the Muebach hotel after journeying to the Mecca in their special train June 2.

The delegation will petition the designation of the Delphia Temple for Ada and have been assured that they stand good chance of securing the favor of the Imperial Council. Incidentally the Ada Shriners and their fezzed friends from this neck of the woods will put Ada on the map as the special train winds its way through Oklahoma, Kansas and into Missouri for a band will accompany the Ada Pilgrimage and stage a parade in each of the twenty towns in which the train stops.

The trip to Kansas City, while affording Pontotoc county Shriners with an opportunity to place their plea for a temple at Ada squarely before the Imperial Council will also serve as a booster exhibition for the City of Ada for the special train will be decorated from engine to caboose with banners announcing the history of Ada.

Those in charge declare that the program is practically complete at the present time and that all Shriners need worry about at the present time is being able to get on the Shrine Special which leaves Ada June 2.

WOODS RESIGNATION IS AFFIRMED IN DISPATCH

(By the Associated Press)
TOKYO, May 19.—Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods confirmed a dispatch from Washington reporting his resignation which he said was due to family reasons. The resignation was tendered three weeks ago. The ambassador will sail from Yokohama for Seattle on the President McKinley June 6.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Ambassador Woods' desire to relinquish his position is believed by officials here to be based wholly upon personal considerations and to have no connection with pending immigration legislation in this country.

Mr. Woods first expressed his wish to be relieved when he was in the United States some months ago before the Japanese exclusion question came up in congress. His resignation has not yet been formally submitted but he will return to the United States when he can be spared for the purpose of tendering it.

METHODIST STAND ON WAR DEFERRED FOR FINAL ACTION

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 19.—Action on a motion to define the position of the Methodist church on the subject of war was postponed by the Methodist general conference today. Dissatisfied with the recommendations of a standing committee the delegates voted for the appointment of a special committee to frame a new proposal and report it by next Friday.

Kidnaped by Woman as Love Revenge, Returns After 50 Years

JOPLIN, Mo., May 19.—A pawn of spurned love, Freddie Leib, has come back to life after 53 years.

The little boy who was kidnaped from Quincy, Ill., in 1871, now appears as a man who contends he is the son of Prof. William H. Leib, a widely known music master, who spent his life and fortune seeking the son who was stolen from him.

Freddie Leib, or Robert T. Clark, as he previously had been known, appeared here several days ago. Friends of his father immediately saw the marked resemblance.

Woman Kidnaped Lives.
Clark read in a newspaper of the death here of Professor Leib. The story of the kidnaping of little Freddie and the father's frantic efforts to find him was told. A picture of the child taken shortly before his disappearance was reproduced. Mr. Clark found an exact likeness of the photograph among his possessions, which, he said, was given him by his foster parents. He got in touch with relatives of Professor Leib, he says, and they identified him.

He has sworn vengeance on those who kidnaped him and held him while his father, Professor Leib, impoverished himself in a vain search.

A woman's desire to avenge a blighted love was the motive behind the kidnaping, Clark avers. The purpose was to blackmail the man who spurned her.

The alleged abductor still lives he says.

His story is that he was reared in the home of Louise Winter in Norristown, Pa., and was given the name of Ervin T. Winter. The family abused him, he avers, and when he was eighteen years old he was told by one of the Winter's children he was not a member of the family.

He ran away soon after that. When he was 38 years old he attended the funeral of Winter and was told by Mrs. Winter he had been kidnaped by a woman at Quincy, Ill., and taken East when he was a child. After that he searched continuously for his relatives.

Accepted as Brother.
C. H. Leib of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Bessie Sutherland of Hastings, Minn., have accepted him as their long lost brother, he says. Professor Leib was twenty-nine years old when came that dread message: "Freddie missing since 7 last night. No trace of him. Come at once."

Back to a frantic mother Professor Leib went. The police were called, but they were powerless. There were many explanations, many theories.

Then followed a search from Atlantic to Pacific, from the Lakes to the Gulf. It extended even to Europe.

Ponds were dragged; river packets along the Mississippi explored. Professor Leib was showered with telegrams. Freddie had been found here, had been round there. He was found in Chicago and Denver; he was seen in Seattle and New Orleans—all the same day.

Professor Leib traced every cleft, and all were futile.

Mrs. Leib, who never had recovered from Freddie's disappearance, died in 1885, fourteen years after the tragedy. In the late '80s Professor Leib went to Kansas City, still running down whatever "clews" he could find still hoping and always vainly. Then he came to Joplin, where he taught music classes. Here he died.

INTEREST SHOWN IN PROPOSED PARK

Park Naming Contest Growing
Lively; Big Picnic to Be Staged

Interest in the contest for the most appealing name for the proposed recreation park at Byrds Mill has grown almost to the extent citizens of Ada are becoming interested in the proposed park on the city property near Franks, according to those in charge.

A volley of selections as names for the park which is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Ada has been receiving by the Park Naming contest with the prospect of an even greater deluge before the closing of the contest Saturday night.

While selecting a suitable name for the park is one of the matters to be considered, Kiwanians are not losing sight of the task before them in dedicating the park to public use.

Committees appointed by the executive committee of the Kiwanis are functioning toward making the picnic next Monday one of the big occasions of the year and to include a live representation from the city of Ada.

Those in charge hope to have a sufficient number of volunteer laborers to clear off the underbrush and make the park attractive on the first trip to the proposed site.

An expert landscape gardener from Oklahoma A. and M. college at Stillwater will be here next Monday and have charge of the work in beautifying the park.

The proposed park will be located on the city's land between the springs and the pump station, and is claimed as one of the beauty spots of this section of the state. Further beautification attempts will bring the park to demand a portion of the tourist influx in this section of the state as well as affording a place where tired Ada folk may visit on days of rest.

Korean Official Fired On.

TOKYO, May 19.—Admiral Sato, governor general of Korea, was fired on from the banks of the river Daedong in Northwestern Korea while traveling by steamer on his annual inspection trip, it is declared in official advices today. The governor was unhurt.

THAW TRIAL NOT TO BE CALLED AGAIN

(By the Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—The motion for a new trial to determine the sanity of Harry K. Thaw was formally withdrawn today by counsel representing Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's former wife. Thaw was recently declared sane by a jury in common pleas court.

Thaw is in Pittsburgh visiting his mother by permission of the court. Whether he will return here to be formally released or whether his attorneys will represent him was not made clear when the motion was withdrawn.

Thaw is under indictment in New York on charges in connection with the alleged beating of Frederick Gump, former Kansas City high school boy. New York authorities sought to have Thaw returned to New York state when the assault was alleged to have occurred, but his mother intervened and after he had been declared insane he was confined in the Pennsylvania hospital for mental and nervous diseases. A civil suit for damages brought by Gump's father was settled out of court in January.

STERLING JUSTIFIES INDICTMENT FILING

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The federal grand jury in Montana was justified in reporting an indictment against Senator Wheeler of that state in the opinion of Senator Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, who submitted a minority report to the senate in his capacity as a member of the special committee that investigated the indictment.

Senator Sterling limited his report to the question of justification and declared the question of the guilt or innocence of Senator Wheeler is not a proper subject of inquiry by a committee, but is solely a matter of determination by the courts.

Senator Sterling asserted that the indictment was the result of a "frameup" failed entirely of proof.

ADA HI PATRONS VIEW EXHIBITIONS

Display of Work Shown to Patrons of Ada High School

On Friday evening patrons and friends of the high school gathered at the building for a program and display of the work done during the year just coming to a close.

A crowd estimated at well over four hundred heard a program presented by various musical organizations and individuals of the schools and then scattered through several rooms of the building which contained displays of the work of different departments.

The high school band gave one number of the program and the orchestra two. Each of the three chorus classes sang. Ida Jacobson and Irene Holmes then gave a piano duet and were followed by Melba McKoy and Marguerite Chilcitt in a piano duet.

After the musical numbers, members of the home economics classes appeared in a style show, illustrating the work that had been done in Mrs. Bobbitt's department this year. The girls wore dresses made by themselves, most of them being house dresses.

The military display in the rooms of the home economics department received considerable attention. The history department had on a display a number of excellently drawn maps; mathematics papers showed the work of that department, and there were a number of clever cartoons drawn by the high school students.

The manual training department display also drew much attention. There was a variety of the work done by the boys in the shop, all illustrating the class of woodwork and mechanical drawing accomplished in the high school.

Punch was served to the visitors who came for the program and display.

Child and Mother Injured When Car Plunges In Ditch

The small child of Will Haynes, a traveling salesman, is in a critical condition and not expected to live and his wife is suffering from a broken arm and several bruises as a result of an auto accident near Citra about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

According to Haynes, the car stalled going up a hill and the brakes refused to work allowing the car to back downhill until he lost control of the machine and it plunged over-head into a ditch.

The child was rushed to the Ada Hospital early last night with a crushed skull and today recovery for the child is considered doubtful. The child's mother is also in a serious condition.

Haynes recently located here, traveling over his territory out of Ada and was returning from Hartshorne with his wife and child to live in Ada.

EDITORS OF U. S. INVADE OKLAHOMA

Newspaper Men of Country
Gather For Editorial
Association Meet

(By the Associated Press)
PONCA CITY, Okla., May 19.—Newspaper editors from large and small dailies and weeklies, coming from almost every state in the United States, invaded Oklahoma today for a week's stay, the guests of the Oklahoma Editorial association, state officials, municipalities, civic and business organizations.

Ponca City is the first stop of the special train, carrying the 250 or more members of the National Editorial association and visitors to the national convention which will be held in Oklahoma City, May 22, 23 and 24. Incidental to the convention is the seven days stay in Oklahoma, during which time the delegates will visit several of the leading cities and view, at first hand, the industries of Oklahoma.

After spending the day here the editors will go to Tulsa where they will spend May 20. Bristow is the next stopping point on May 21. The editors will be in Oklahoma City May 22, 23 and 24, making side trips to Guthrie and El Reno on the 23 and 24. Sunday, May 25, the visitors will be at Lawton and Medicine Park, concluding their stay in Oklahoma with a visit to Fort Sill, May 26. The editors will go on to Texas and Mexico City after their sojourn in Oklahoma.

Today, here, a throw-back of the days when Oklahoma was a frontier of the Southwest will be staged. Members of every tribe of Indians, now existing, that roamed the plains of the Southwest in those days will march in a great pageant before the editors. Tribal customs, rites and ceremonies will be enacted for the visitors. Hundreds of "braves" in full regalia, their faces streaked with paint of the war-path will take part in the pageant. The Indian show will be a part of the entertainment at the 101 ranch and will be held in connection with the annual rodeo of the ranch.

At Bristow Wednesday Governor Trapp will welcome the visitors in behalf of the state.

Several of the leading fields of the mid-continent oil area will be visited during the week's stay in Oklahoma, and at Bristow a well will be "brought in" for the editors. Every process of refining and distillation will be shown the visitors at Tulsa and Bristow. One session of the convention will be held in the legislative chamber of the state capitol where Governor Walton was impeached.

PRESBYTERY SEEKING CHECK ON MINISTERS

(By the Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 19.—Ministers, elders and deacons of the Presbyterian church in the United States are to be asked to take a vote that whenever they changed their convictions regarding the fundamental doctrines of the church they will make the fact known to their presbytery, according to action taken at the 64th general assembly of the church.

This is considered a reflection of the attitude of the assembly on the fundamentalist-modernist controversy.

The amendment must be referred back to the presbyteries for ratification before it becomes the law of the church.

SENATE DEFEATS COOLIDGE PLANS TO BLOCK BONUS

Two Votes Over Necessary
Majority Results in Senate Vote

BILL BECOMES LAW

Several Republican Organization Leaders Join
Anti Forces

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The senate today overrode President Coolidge's veto of the soldier's bonus bill.

The vote was 59 to 26 for over-throwing the veto.

The vote was two more than the necessary two-thirds majority. Thirty Republicans, 27 Democrats and 2 Farmer-Labor senators voted to override the veto. Nineteen Republicans and 7 Democrats voted to sustain the president.

The measure now automatically becomes a law, the house having taken similar action.

Several Republican organization leaders joined with the anti-administration line up in opposing the veto and the result was in doubt until the last minute.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Seven Republican senators who stand on overriding the presidential veto of the bonus bill is in doubt were guests of President Coolidge at a breakfast conference today prior to the meeting of the senate.

The senators left the White House declaring that the situation had not been changed by the conference with the president and that the conference with them and as far as they could ascertain the veto would be overridden.

Those attending were Senators Harrell, Oklahoma; Phipps, Colorado; Sterling, South Dakota; McKinley, Illinois; Cameron, Arizona; Dale, Vermont; Keys, New Hampshire.

Senator Curtis, republican, Kansas in charge of the measure announced Saturday he would move today at 2 o'clock to take up consideration of the veto of the bonus bill. Busy minutes were put in this morning by leaders of the two groups in efforts to determine definitely the line up on the bill which, however, appeared uncertain at a late hour.

The flood of messages to senators concerning the bill continued today. If repassed by the senate it would require a two-thirds majority.

PLANES OFF FOR JAPANESE PORT

Fliers Disregard Unfavorable
Weather Conditions

(By the Associated Press)

PARAMASHIRU ISLAND, Kuriles. —May 19.—The American aerial squadron encircling the world sailed down on Kashiwabara bay Saturday morning in a snow storm, this morning mounted from the water and disappeared in the early morning fog, without waiting for good weather. Sunday was a disappointment. Snow fell from time to time and a biting wind blew continuously. Today early dawn—in this latitude it came before 2 o'clock—found the flyers astray and a low hanging fog threatened another postponement but messages from Japanese and American vessels half way between this and the next stop stated that conditions were excellent.

The air cruiser New Orleans took the air at 7:35 a. m. and was quickly followed by the Boston and Chicago.

The take off was easy. The planes circled once above the island then the flag plane Chicago led off and the three disappeared in the morning haze.

YEOTURTLE ISLAND, Kuriles, May 19.—The three American army planes flying around the world landed here this afternoon at 12:50 having made the 500 mile flight from Paramashiru island in a little over seven hours.

The landing was made on Lake Toshinaye. This is in the rear of Hitokappu bay, an indentation in the southeastern shore of this island. The landing place on the lake was prepared by Japanese and American sailors from the destroyers Pope and Amatsukaze several days ago when it was decided that the bay was too rough for the plane to be brought down safely.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 19.—Reconsidering its previous action the Methodist Episcopal general conference voted to elect three new bishops instead of five. The vote was 436 for and 376 against.

Friday night. Everyone come and ring someone with you.

A large crowd attended the school meeting Tuesday afternoon. Lee Blackwell was elected board member in the place of F. F. Falter. Ten mills were voted and a nine months school. We want to thank the patrons of this community for their support.

Mr. Newland, the section foreman, called a meeting after the election to see how many of the patrons were in favor of the switch and flag station on the Katy line one mile north of the school house. Most every one was in favor of it. We expect the switch to be put down with in sixty days. It will be a great benefit to the community.

The Parent-Teachers meeting will be held Friday night, April 4. A program will also be given.

Miss Zelma Ennes of Ada is visiting her sister Miss Lola Ennes of this place.

Miss Mary Ellen Hatcher who is attending school at Ada spent the week-end with homefolks.

Misses Mae and Hazel Carmichael and Nora Dillard were in this community Sunday.

Miss Catherine Brock spent the week-end with homefolks.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BUT THOU, WHEN THOU PRAYEST, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. For your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him.—Matt. 6:6, 8.

TEN NEW IMMORTALS.

Every school boy is familiar with Thomas Gray's somewhat capacious comment about the path of glory leading to the grave. Although it would not appear that this country suffers from a surfeit of greatness, yet the great are often sufficiently numerous to be passed over and forgotten without receiving recognition for the works which live after them.

In doing honor to the great by erecting their busts in the Hall of Fame, New York University accomplishes in a small way two purposes. First, it gives credit to service rendered; secondly, it publishes the greatness of some persons who might otherwise be overlooked. The ten immortals so honored yesterday are a typical list. It was perhaps merely a coincidence that Thomas Edison attended the unveiling ceremony, for somehow the names of the immortals are peculiarly reminiscent of his questionnaires. Of the ten, five probably would be easily recognized. They are John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Mark Twain and Phillips Brooks. But the other five will prove a puzzle even to persons who boast a familiarity with the great and the near-great. For the benefit of those who have not had the time to trace the claims to fame of this quintet the following information is supplied:

Alice Freeman Palmer at the age of twenty-six was president of Wellesley College.

Dr. W. T. G. Morton was a pioneer in anaesthesia.

Joseph Henry was a scientist and inventor of the electromagnet.

Peter Cooper was a manufacturer, inventor and philanthropist. He built the Canton Iron Works in Baltimore and designed and constructed the "Tom Thumb," the first steam locomotive built in America. He also was founder of the Cooper Union.

James Buchanan Eads was a civil engineer. He built ironclads and mortar boats for the Union in the Civil War, the bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis, and widened and deepened the mouth of the same river by the use of the jetty.—Baltimore Sun.

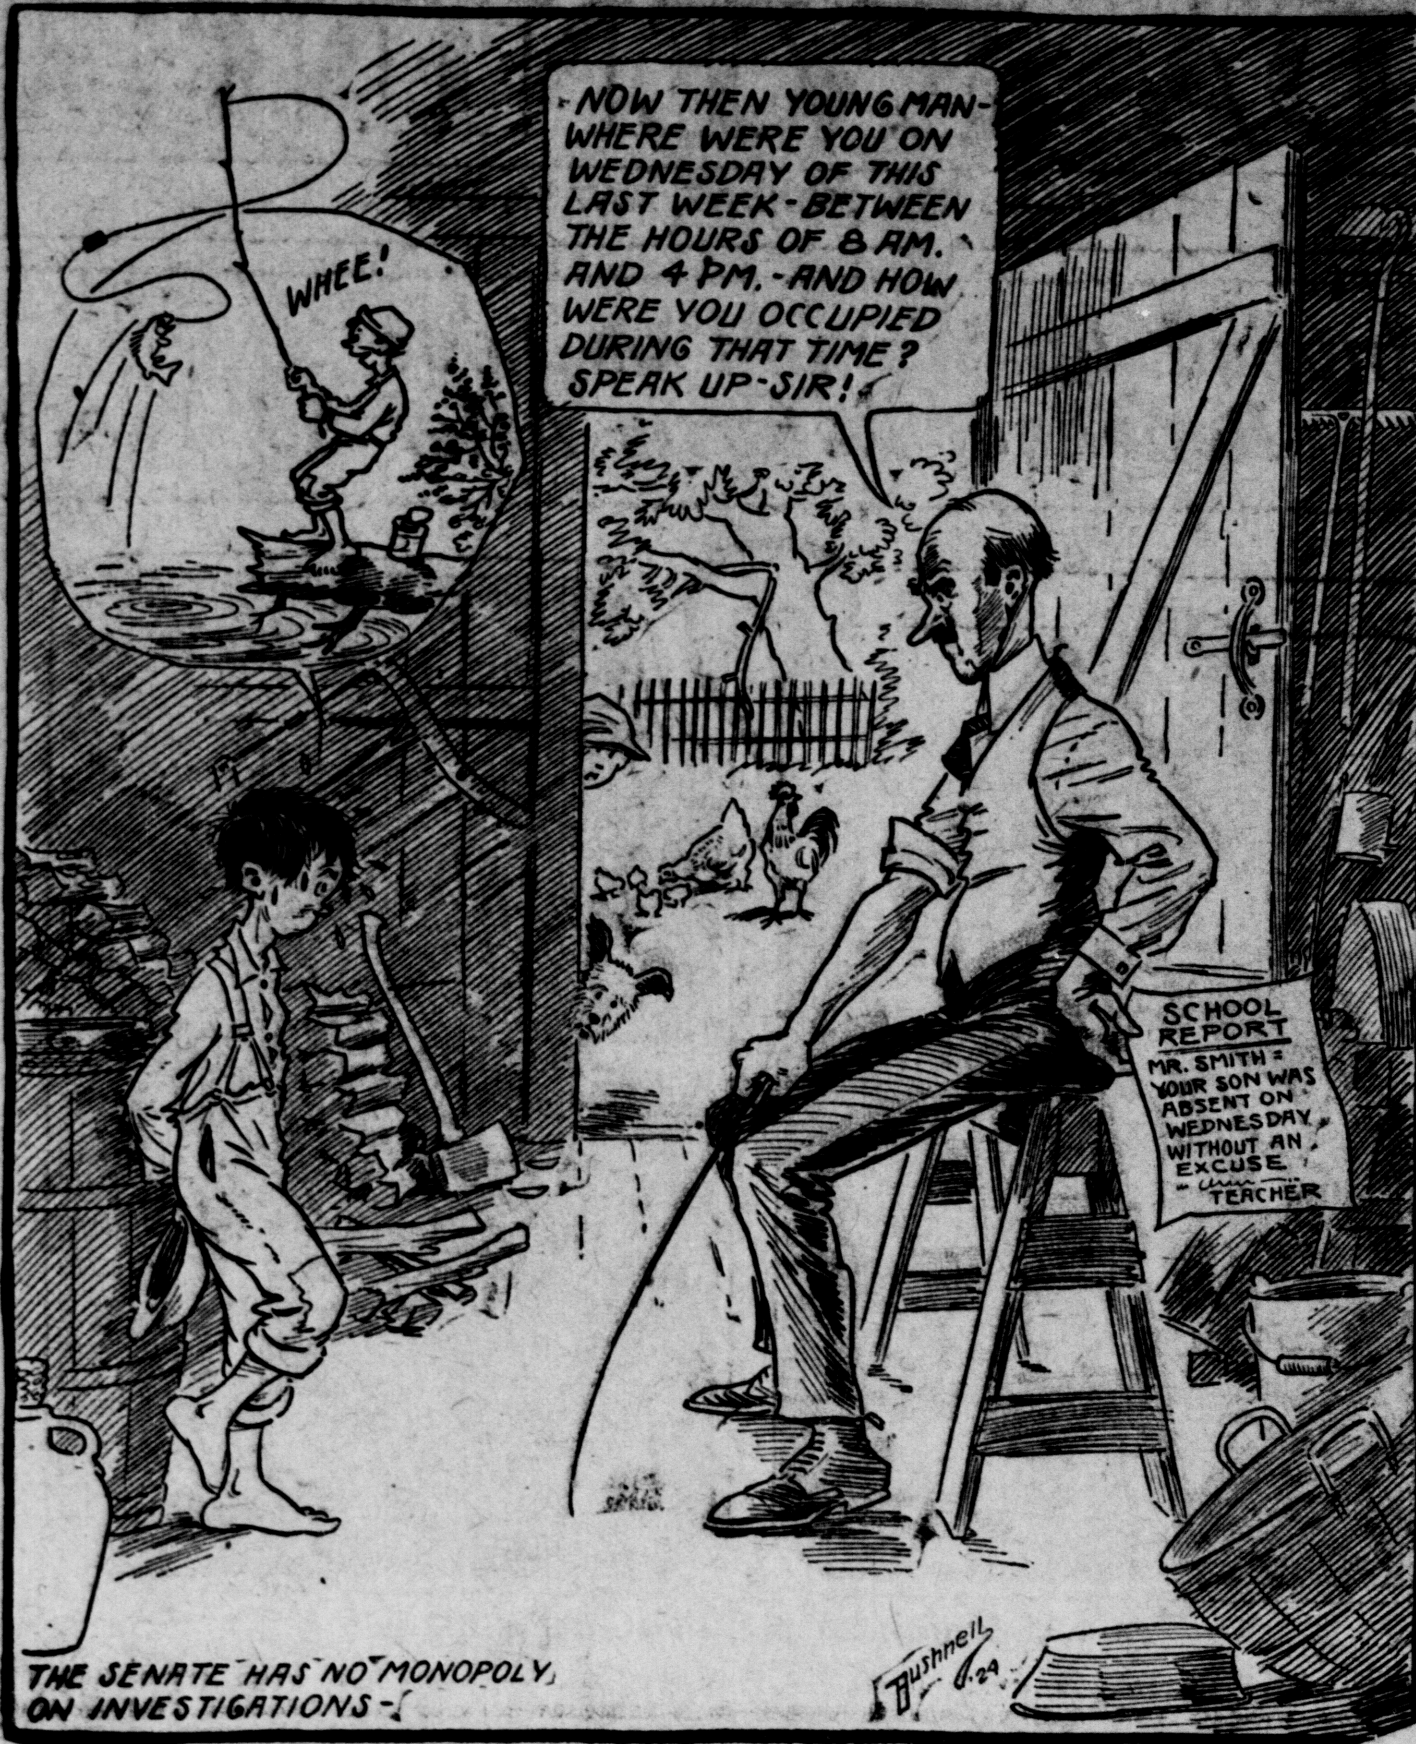

The labor laws of the state need modifying in a manner that will fix a basis on which to compute the rate of wages to be paid laborers on public work. The law at present specifies that they shall be paid the rate prevailing in that locality, but this is not always an easy thing to determine. As a result the labor commissioner and contractors are continually at war and in the end the public pays. The opinion of the contractors and the labor commissioner vary widely in many cases and the result is a court fight which costs the people quite a bit and the contractors take good care to put their figures up to a point that will make them safe no matter how the case is decided. Very few public jobs are undertaken but what the labor commissioner takes a hand and then the whole thing gets tangled up. The law should make it plain just how the basis should be determined.

George Remus, wealthy bootlegger who is serving a term in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, testified before the senate Daugherty committee that he paid Jess Smith, Daugherty's man Friday, between $250,000 and $300,000 for protection while he disposed of a large quantity of booze left over from the wet days and large sums for withdrawal permits. He made a killing in the game but stayed in too long and has retired from society for a few years by order of a federal judge who was not interested in the sale of protection pledges. Some men never know when to quit.

In spite of the alarm frequently expressed over the rapid destruction of American forests, it is stated that the present congress has consumed the timber growing on 10,000 acres to provide speeches sent back to the homes of the orators. In the face of this very little has been done. The Republicans being in the majority are supposed to be responsible for legislation, and not so long ago they solemnly promised the nation that if returned to power they would show it what a constructive legislative record really looked like but after six years of control of both houses a start has not yet been made.

It may not be our fight, but we like to see our neighbors get what they go after. Okmulgee wants a branch of the Katy and the road is anxious to build but the interstate commerce commission has vetoed the proposition. That sort of policy will put an end to railroad building in the state and Ada may some day find herself in the same box that Okmulgee is now. Since the town and railroad company are agreed we fail to see any valid reason why the road should not be built. A precedent of this kind is rather dangerous to the other towns of the state.

THE INQUISITION

The Evening News

Can Conservatives Clear Calvin?

(Oklahoma Federationist)

For over three years the reactionary wing of the Republican party has been in control of the national administration. Taking office with the largest majority ever recorded in this country, and following the most progressive administration the country has seen in years, the bunch of wise men who dictated the nomination of Harding have had things their own way.

And what is the result? The public oil domain dissipated by a collection of official and unofficial grafters the like of which was never known before. The government turned over to private exploiters, the right of free speech and peaceable assembly set aside, graft in every quarter, corruption on every hand, and the people standing aghast at the revelation brought about by a little group of honest men with progressive tendencies.

And how do the Republicans go about to remedy the evil they have wrought? By sending out a "key-note" who lays all the blame on the shoulders of a dead president. By attempting to prove that their present leader and hero had nothing to do with the rotten conditions that have obtained at Washington. The attempt should fail, and will fail if the people have any sense of responsibility and morality.

Under Harding for the first time in the history of the country the vice-president was taken into the councils of the cabinet and considered as a member of the president's official family. When Harding died the boast was made that Coolidge was better fitted to become president than any of his predecessors as vice-president because of the very fact that he had been so close to the conduct of the administration. Yet now his apologists say he knew nothing of the outrageous conditions that existed. What a rare compliment to the intelligence of the president of the United States! How deeply he must have studied the problems of government! He sat in the inner councils for two years and knew nothing of what was going on.

The excuse made for Coolidge is the weakest that could be devised. He did know what conditions were, and knowing he continued the same gang of looters and despoilers of liberty to remain in his cabinet, and let them go with the greatest of reluctance. He stood by Denby to the last. He upheld the unspeakable Daugherty until public opinion overwhelmed him. He is still standing by Mellon and his plan to shift the burden of taxation entirely onto the backs of the common people. He has thrown one impediment after another in the way of the senate committees that have been bringing the crimes of his gang to light.

And then to tell an outraged, flummoxed public that little Calvin is as clean as the driven snow is like onto telling a child to wash its face in lampblack in order to make it white.

The part of the Republican party that Coolidge is the head of must accept the responsibility for its crimes. Heaping anathema upon the dead will not absolve it. Insulting its leader by saying he was too ignorant to see through a ladder when the spokes were all knocked out will not create confidence in that leader.

The handwriting is upon the wall, and it is writ so large that he who goes past in an airplane can read—and it says—

"Mene, mene, tekel upharsin."

SWEDEN'S RUSSIAN TRADE FOLLOWS WITH TREATY

(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM.—A reduction by eight percent of the harbor dues of Swedish ships entering the port of Leningrad, a return to Swedish ownership of the embassy house in that city, and the appointment by each nation of official envoys to the other, are among the first results of the signing of the pact between Sweden and Russia, in which the Soviet is recognized as the government de jure.

While the treaty must be ratified by the Swedish Riksdag, the government, headed by Prime Minister Trygger, has already promised recognition. The treaty contains a clause granting each nation the most favored nation treatment, which does not depend upon ratification by the Riksdag. This has an important bearing on shipping privileges, as hitherto Swedish shipowners have been obliged to pay five times as high harbor dues as those from countries with which the Soviet had treaty relations.

The Swedish commercial and industrial world now looks forward to stabilization of the trade with Russia, which is a good market for Swedish products. Sweden also will be enabled to play an ever stronger role as middleman between transatlantic exporters and Russian consumers.

Five Zoos Robbed of Parrots.

(By the Associated Press)

STUTTGART, Germany.—Thieves have recently made a specialty of parrots which speak. The local Zoological garden and the zoos in Berlin, Frankfurt, Nuremberg and Dresden have reported thefts of birds and in all cases valuable parrots were taken. Shipping agencies and shipping lines have been advised of the thefts and the zoos hope to prevent the exportation of the birds.

STILL PRAISING IT AFTER THREE YEARS

Relief Tanlac Gave Mrs. Bevill Was Permanent. Gained 32 Lbs.

"Ever since it built me up so wonderfully three years ago, I have been an ardent champion of Tanlac," recently said Mrs. C. P. Bevill, a highly esteemed resident of 315½ West Okmulgee street, Muskogee, Okla.

"Before I first took Tanlac, indigestion and nervousness had played such havoc with my health and strength I became terribly run-down. I had such severe dizzy spells that it seemed I would turn blind and I felt weak and worn out.

"My trouble had pulled me down till I only weighed 98 pounds, but Tanlac increased my weight to 130 pounds—a gain of 32 pounds. Tanlac not only gave me a splendid appetite and ended my stomach trouble, but it also quieted my nerves, toned up my whole system and made me feel as fine as one could wish to feel.

"This last spring I used Tanlac as a tonic and obtained just the benefits I expected. It is indeed a great builder of health and strength."

Mothers!

Give the children WRIGLEY'S after every meal

A prominent physician says:

"It is surprising how free from decay the teeth can be kept by using gum after each meal."

You know how hard it is to get the children to clean their teeth. By giving them WRIGLEY'S you not only reward them for cleaning their teeth, but the reward is actually the means of performing this important service!

WRIGLEY'S aids digestion too, and acts as an anti-septic wash for the mouth and throat. Several flavors—all of WRIGLEY quality.

Three Persons Are Missing From Hard
Volcano Explosion

(By the Associated Press)
HONOLULU, May 19.—Three persons are unaccounted for following a violent explosion in the crater of Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii, said advices reaching here from Hilo on that island. They are Miss Mollie U. Thomas, district nurse of the board of health and two soldiers whose names were not given.

The explosion was the most violent of the current period of activity in the volcano. The three were seen on the edge of the great pit of the crater immediately before the explosion. Thomas S. Taylor, bookkeeper, was struck by a rock thrown from the volcano and both legs were crushed.

Trotsky Urging
Military Steps
In Russia Now

(By the Associated Press)
MOSCOW, May 19.—On the initiative of War Minister Trotsky, who is striving to warn the Russian to prepare defensive measures, a special campaign is being inaugurated throughout the country this week to urge upon the people the necessity of spreading knowledge of chemical warfare.

This campaign is analogous to one carried on last year after the ultimatum of Lord Curzon, British foreign minister, when an appeal was made for the creation of a volunteer aerial fleet. Up to the present more than 100 airplanes have been constructed with subscriptions by the people. Country wide propaganda is being conducted for a volunteer aerial force.

FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT RECITAL

The Fine Arts department of the College will give their recital Tuesday evening at 7:45 in the College auditorium. This recital is part of the commencement week program. There will be no charges and a cordial invitation is extended everyone from Mrs. Wm. Emanuel, piano department, Miss Lillian Strite, violin department, Mrs. J. H. Biles, oratory department.

A full program will appear in Tuesday's paper.

Guaranteed 100 Percent New.

Led by a daring youth, called the "Humming Bird," a gang of thieves flaunts the police of Paris, Randall Carey an American newspaper man in Paris, volunteers to assist in running "him" down. To wit, a girl, is the "Humming Bird," who preys upon the upper classes to rob them. Real love for Carey comes into her life—she is willing for his sake to try a respectable life. But then there is another girl, Carey's fiancée—Toinette returns to the life she knows.

But why tell more?—the best we can offer is only an insufficient account of the story—a bear for thrills. You've never seen anything like it. In fact, there's never been anything like it made before. Its individuality, if nothing else, makes it stand out as one of the leading pictures of the season thus far. Gloria Swanson reveals in the stellar role—it's tailor-made. Then there's Edward Burns, as Carey, Mario Majeroni and others just as prominent in support.

Sidney Olcott directed the production for Paramount. It's now at the McSwain theatre to remain for Monday and Tuesday showings.

NEW FILING CASES TO HANDLE LEGAL BUSINESS

Pontotoc county's legal entanglements have increased remarkably in the last few years and employees of the court clerk's office are continually worrying over meeting the instrument filing needs with the cramped space in which they have to operate.

The arrival of three new filing cases Saturday will meet the situation for several months to come and officials hope that other provisions may be had before more space is required for filing.

Well-Known Business Man Freed of Twenty Years' Suffering

A. W. TAYLOR

That the sensational new medicine Karnak has relieved him of twenty years of suffering and restored his health after all other means had failed in the astonishing statement of Mr. A. W. Taylor, well-known business man residing at 816 East Tenth street, Oklahoma City. "I think it is my duty to let the public know what Karnak has done for me," said Mr. Taylor in making public his experience. "For twenty years before I got this remarkable medicine I had not seen a well day, and I frequently had to leave my business and go home to bed. Nothing I ate seemed to digest properly. I was continually bothered with terrific headaches, sluggish liver and constipation, and severe pains extending from my right side to my back kept me in constant torment. I had about made up my mind to undergo operation to see if it would help me, but a friend got me started on taking Karnak and I would not take anything on earth for what the medicine has done for me. My digestion is splendid, the other troubles are also gone, and I feel better than I have in years and years. I consider Karnak worth its weight in gold."

Mr. Taylor's statement is typical of hundreds of others being made about the famous new medicine. Karnak is sold exclusively in Ada at Gwin & Mays and in Stonewall at Chas. Burnett's.—Adv.

UNITED STATES FLAG
MADE OF TATTLING

Miss Dollie McDaniels showed the News a United States flag that is something of a novelty. It is a specimen of skillful tatting by her sister, Mrs. J. W. Wilburn of Hartshorne.

The flag took first honors at the McAlester fair and second at the Muskogee state fair in 1921.

Dinsdale waited until Pyrites came up. The prospector examined the arrow and muttered: "See how that head's fixed on sort of wobbly. Once it's stuck into a man it can't be pulled out. Well, he'll lie low for a spell along of Mr. Lightning. Only one of him, or they'd laid for us with their guns."

Acting on Pyrites' advice Dinsdale continued afoot, walking beside his horse, his revolver ready to resent an ambush. A few miles brought them to the Rapid, which they crossed just below the forks. Pyrites' last for testing the gravel could not be denied longer, and as their next march would take them up on to the divide, due east, Dinsdale was willing to call it a day's travel.

They unpacked the burros and pitched their tent, and Pyrites fished out his pan, about a foot and a half in diameter, and shoveled some thirty pounds of dirt into it, and hurried to the rivulet. Dinsdale stood and watched him. Pyrites exclaimed something under his breath.

"How does it pan out?" asked Dinsdale, with a flicker of interest.

"About four or five colors."

"What's that in money?"

Pyrites, scratching his head, unwillingly admitted:

"About a fifth of a cent."

"Great Scott! If that's prospecting I'm through. Why, it costs me fifteen cents to fire one of my guns once!" cried Dinsdale in high disgust.

Pyrites instantly regained his optimism. "The value of that pan simply proves there's gold everywhere in these hills. This ain't where we was aiming for anyway. I want to work close to the divide and locate a vein."

"That will be more like it," mumbled

GOSPEL TEAMS HOLD MEETINGS IN COUNTY

The Gospel Teams of the Baptist Men's Bible Class held successful meetings Sunday afternoon at the following points:

Team No. 1 went to Laxton; No. 2 went to Byng; No. 3 went to Pecan Grove and No. 4 to Knox. The four teams will all go out next Sunday afternoon and announcement will be made later as to where they will go.

These teams are doing a great deal to increase the spirit of good fellowship between the rural communities and the town. They meet each Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church at 2:00 o'clock and leave from there for their respective appointments. If you do not know exactly what team you are on, call J. C. Hynds, phone 519, or J. C. Treadwell, phone 1089, and if you are not on any team come out and go with the team of your choice.

Japan's Action to Bring on Adoption Of Lausanne Treaty

TOKIO, May 15.—The foreign office informed the Associated Press today that the Lausanne treaty would become effective within a week through its ratification by Japan. It was denied officially that France had exerted any pressure to prevent ratification.

TOKIO, May 19.—The Lausanne treaty concluding peace between Greece and Turkey in 1922 provided that it should become effective when ratified by any three of the four great powers which signed it. It already had been ratified by Great Britain and Italy and its ratification recently was recommended by the privy council. Japan and France are the other powers comprising the signatories.

Dinsdale. "I won't bother to get my pan working till we strike something more promising."

Eating an early supper, the burros were loaded and the two struck to the southeast for a mile and then turned east into a dry water course and began mounting the divide. In all they did not cover more than two miles before the slanting sun rays warned them it was time to make camp. Dinsdale left this matter entirely to Pyrites, and the location selected was close by a spring, near a growth of stunted burr-oak. As Pyrites pitched the tent he commented:

"We're below Elk buttes and about ten miles east of Elkhorn prairie. I'd like to go over there and put in a few days."

"I'm more interested in the divide ahead than in any grass prairie," said Dinsdale.

"Oh, we'll look over the divide first, now we're within pistol shot of it."

"Any danger from horse thieves?"

"Hoss thieves? Good land! What made you think of hoss thieves? Let's not have any outlaw talk. We're honest prospectors. We don't want any truck with unlawful men."

"That's right," heartily agreed Dinsdale. "All I ask is not to be disturbed in my gold-hunting."

The next morning they breathed a while mist when they crawled from the tent. Dinsdale was for an immediate departure for a higher level. Pyrites insisted on breakfast and something of an examination of the gully they had been following.

"Just as you say. You're the boss," surrendered Dinsdale. "But I've got the gold fever and after we've had coffee I'm going to take my pan and strike out up the ridge."

"You'll get lost sure as apples," remonstrated Pyrites. "You don't know these hills, with their gorges and broken tops."

"I know hills much worse than these. Baked masses of dry cinders with no running water to tell you the lay of the land. This country is simple. Man can't get lost. Don't be afraid."

"Have it so. Hope you strike a bushel of nuggets. I'll stick along here. You'll be back by noon?"

"Have dinner ready and eat if I don't show up. I may strike something big and forget I'm hungry."

A short distance above his companion Dinsdale halted and dug down a foot and carefully examined the dirt. Without water he could not determine what he had uncovered, but by rolling some of the dirt between his fingers he was rewarded with a small scale of coarse gold. He stuck a branch in the dirt to attract Pyrites' attention and mounted higher.

Digging out samples at short intervals and finding specks of gold in each he used up much of the morning. Pyrites was nowhere in sight. The sun was nearly overhead as he filled his pan from the topmost mound. Instead of hurrying down the ridge, however, he squared his shoulders to get the kinks out of his back and glanced curiously about the panorama of hills and ridges and melancholy woods. Then staring down at the fresh mound he muttered:

"If you were all pure gold, friend dirt, I'd swap you in a second just to know what Jim Omaha looks like; just to know if he has reached Deadwood City yet."

He mounted the ridge to where it was clear of trees. The sun had conquered the mists and the heavens shone blue. To all appearances it was a dead land. No smokes were to be seen, no habitations, no sounds of human voices. And yet there were Indians lurking in the deep gulches and rumor persisted, there were organized horse thieves with rendezvous on the divide, while possibly other lone prospectors, like Pyrites, were seeking fortune in the winding depths below.

He left his pan and pick while he reconnoitered the top of the ridge. He reached the crest only to discover another and higher ridge ahead. He descended into the shallow valley, between the two and followed it down for a fourth of a mile, proceeding slowly and watchful for Indian signs. He was surprised and keenly interested in turning a wooded bend to behold a long log cabin ahead. Beyond it were half a dozen open sheds and a rough corral. He could detect no signs of life about the place. With a shrug of his shoulders he boldly advanced, telling himself:

"If any one is there he must have seen me. I'm a lost prospector, trying to find old Iron Pyrites."

The cabin door was closed and, what was unusual, blankets were hung over the small windows. These were lacking glass, but were partly blocked by strips of timber. He first examined the sheds and corrals. None contained horses.

"They're ready to care for a heap of them when put to it," he thought as he advanced to the door and rapped smartly. As he had expected there was no response. There was a hole for a latchstring, but no rayhide thong was visible. He tried the door and felt the bar resist the pressure.

"But they get in some way," he pondered. He stepped back and examined the windows and then returned to the door. Then he smiled at the artful simplicity of it. The hole in the door was never used for the latchstring, but merely to discourage a trespasser. At one side of the door and concealed by a strip of hanging bark was the thong. He seized it and tugged sharply. The bar rose inside and the door swung open.

Six rough bunks were on each of the side walls. The chimney and fireplace were at the farther end with several kettles and frying pans. Near the door was a table. This arrangement made it necessary to bring the food the entire length of the room, an unnecessary inconvenience, he decided. Piled in one corner near the fireplace were seven saddles. Four of these did not look as if they had ever been used. The ashes in the fireplace were cold and no fire could have burned there for twenty-four hours. Tiptoeing back to the door he puzzled over the awkward position of the table. His wonderment further increased when he discovered each of the four legs was bolted to the floor. Ironmongery was easily procured in Deadwood City and other hill towns, but why any one should bother to bring iron clamps and screws to this isolated spot and make a rough slab table secure to the floor was a problem that challenged his imagination.

He took hold of the table and lifted. It did not give. He glided to the side farthest from the door and repeated his experiment. With an exclamation he jumped back and the table banged down in place again. He had lifted a section of the floor along with the table. Returning to the side next to the door he reached across and once more lifted and pulled. The table tipped quite easily. It was bolted to, and effectually concealed, a large trapdoor. When he finished the door stood upright at right angles with the floor and the table rested on its side.

Darting to one of the curtained windows he pulled back the covering and briefly surveyed the course he had taken in coming down the sloping valley. He took the same precaution at a window on the opposite side. No one was in sight in either direction. From the door he looked across to the rocky rim of the lesser ridge. It was covered with pines. To examine the height in the east it would be necessary for him to leave the cabin, as there was no window at the chimney end of the room. He decided to chance it without completing his reconnaissance.

The owners of the place would be sure to approach from either up or down the valley. Returning to the open trapdoor, he struck a storm-match and held it below the floor. There was a rude cellar formed by a natural depression or hole. It was about six feet deep beneath the opening and had been shaped with a spade on the sides, but the bottom of it seemed to be solid rock. The flare of the match also revealed a hardback box filled with packages done up in bagging and blankets. Dropping to the ground beneath he caught up the first package and held it in the faint light streaming through the trap and deftly untied the cord. It contained twenty watches, ranging from a lady's timepiece to a massive gold-repeater.

"Agents have been swapping jewelry for horses, or else one gang is working both branches of the business," he told himself as he carefully retied the package.

The next package, much smaller than the first, held nothing but finger rings. The third package was rich with gold dust and nuggets. What remained he examined by the sense of touch and by weighing them in his hands. All contained jewelry or nuggets.

Replacing the loot in its box he pursued his quest eagerly but found nothing. He was lifting his hands to catch the edge of the trap when the cabin door banged open. His fingers were yanked back to pull his two revolvers.

The newcomer stepped short on beholding the reclining table. Dinsdale shuffled about and grumbled half aloud. "That you, Rusty?" demanded the man above.

"Erhu. Come down here," growled Dinsdale. The man walked around the table and unsuspectingly lowered himself through the opening. As his feet touched the ground and as his hands were falling to his side Dinsdale brought the barrel of the heavy Colt down on his head. The fellow collapsed and remained motionless. Dinsdale stepped over the prostrate form and drew himself up through the opening and tipped the trapdoor back in place.

"That makes it awkward," he muttered as he stepped to the open door and gazed up and down the valley. The man's lack of suspicion and his readiness to accept an intruder as a member of the gang indicated that some one known as "Rusty" was expected to be in the cabin; therefore, Rusty must be in the immediate neighborhood and likely to appear at any moment. While it was reassuring to discover no body of men approaching the cabin it was disquieting to observe there were no horses in sight.

The man in the cellar had arrived on foot; and he must have come from the nearby wood or else he would have been seen from one of the two windows before Dinsdale ventured through the trapdoor. It was possible that he and his friend Rusty had been together and had separated when near the cabin. This would permit the second man to be in the woods opposite the door.

Dinsdale ran to the nearest point of the growth despite the possibility that Rusty might be waiting to receive him. Nor did he breathe freely until he plunged into cover. Soon he was back at the camp and Pyrites was demanding:

"Where in sin have you been?"

"I've been in a long narrow valley between this and the next ridge," warily replied Dinsdale. "And I had an adventure I never looked for. Forthwith he recited his experience in the cabin and his assault on the man in the cellar."

"Now you've gone and done it!" growled Pyrites, running to the burros. "Strike that tent and help me pack. Good lord, of all the bad luck I panned the dirt you left and it's all pay gravel once it can be hydraulicked."

At Dewar. The shooting took place at the old "Rocky", the scene of several shootings during the last few years between officers and alleged violators of the law.

And you have to stick your nose in stranger's business and let them know you done it by belting one of them over the head! What made you go into that cabin where you must 'a' known you wasn't wanted?"

"Curiosity, I reckon," sighed Dinsdale, turning to help with the packing. "Once I was in I took the best way of getting out. The man I cracked over the head never saw me."

"But if he's come to, or his mates have come along, they'll scatter and soon find this camp," wrathfully deplored Pyrites. "We ain't got a single minute to lose."

"Going to give the valley a wide berth and make the divide above or below them?" asked Dinsdale.

"Make the divide nothing," sported Pyrites. "We're going to make tracks back to the Rapid and follow it down to Rapid City as fast as we can hoof it. I only hope none of them are in Rapid City to see us come in."

"If my little adventure stops us from prospecting on the divide I don't know as I care how soon we meet them," suddenly retorted Dinsdale.

EDUCATION FOR FOREIGNERS AIM

Public Libraries Seeking to Educate Adult Foreign Population

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 13.—With the grant of $25,000 made by the Carnegie Corporation to the American Library Association for a study in adult education and other library data, headquarters here believe that the step about to be undertaken will have a pronounced influence on the future development of American libraries and their service as educational centers.

Reports from libraries throughout the country, where this service already has been started on a measured scale, show possibilities of it becoming a means of self-education, Americanization, technical, mechanical and cultural development and a helpful source toward an understood citizenship. A summary of the report follows:

In Seattle, the Public Library begins its Americanization work at the detention quarters of the Immigration Service. The men and women there now are largely Russians, professional men and women, musicians, artists, artisans, ex-nobles. By installing a collection of books there it provides an opportunity for the eager, hopeful newcomers to learn something about America and the English language. Foreigners not detained are reached through the churches; talks by the librarian at night schools; distribution of circulars about the library in 13 foreign languages; through naturalization officials and through the foreign press. Laborers, housewives, engineers, singers, lawyers and architects, says the librarian, kneel before the shelves of "Easy books for foreigners."

The Chicago Public Library has established a readers' bureau, whose function is to increase the usefulness of the library to men and women who wish to continue their education out of school. This bureau prepares the outlines for the study of any (non-vocational) subject for patrons interested in following a definite course of reading. The library undertakes to supply the books prescribed in each course in consecutive order and at proper intervals. So eager were the people for this service that within a few weeks after the first announcement was made the publicity was stopped and the library concentrated its efforts on catching up with the requests already made.

The Detroit and Buffalo Public Libraries and probably others are rendering a similar service. Cleveland Public Library has an adult education assistant in its school department, whose function is to make the appropriate connections between the library and the adult education classes in the city.

"In visualizing the Adult Education Department we have in mind not only adults in the strict sense, but all boys and girls and men and women out of school," said the secretary.

"The easiest and simplest method of meeting the needs of isolated students in small towns and in the country districts will probably be through the use of printed reading courses, both vocational and cultural."

OTIS JURY DISCHARGED AFTER DISAGREEMENT

STILLWATER, May 16.—The jury in the trial of M. J. Otey, former financial secretary of the A. and M. college, charged with embezzlement, reported at 7:45 o'clock Thursday night that it was hopelessly deadlocked and was discharged by Judge C. C. Smith. The jury had been out twenty-eight hours. Members of the jury stated outside of the courtroom that the division had been ten to two from the first ballot to the last.

The jury had deliberated twenty-eight hours, having been given the case at 4 p. m. Wednesday. After being told by the foreman that the jury was convinced it was impossible to reach a verdict, the judge polled the jurors, each one replying that that was his opinion.

Otey was continued under his original bond of $5,000, which was said to have been signed by thirty of Stillwater's most prominent business and professional men immediately following his indictment several months ago.

Feed, labor and overhead in caring for a herd of average cows makes the cost of a quart of milk 8.3 cents, says a professor of the Connecticut Agricultural college.

DR. J. W. THARP

Kenwood, Oklahoma
Candidate for
CORPORATION COMMISSIONER
Subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 5th.

"I realize that I greatly need, and will appreciate the good will and assistance of all good people."

Dr. Tharp, of Kenwood has announced for Corporation Commissioner. He is an able man and will poll a good vote at least. The democrats must select good, clean, honest men this year. Graft in both state and national affairs have been running rampant for the last few years. It must be stopped. Dr. Tharp stands for clean government.—Quinton Times.

Dr. Tharp, Delaware county's candidate for Corporation Commissioner, was in our city Monday and this office acknowledges a pleasant call. The Dr. is a man of considerable learning and very high ideals—just the type of man we need in office. GRAIN ELEVATORS SHOULD USE ELECTRIC DRIVE

ELECTRIC POWER DRIVE, as applied to grain elevators, reduces friction losses due to faulty belts and power transmission. When the entire elevator is dependent on one prime mover, as in the case of steam, gas or oil engine power, there is a great loss incurred from operating a line shaft when only a part of the elevator equipment is needed.

WITH ELECTRIC POWER, you can use a combination of group and individual drives. Group operation may be applied to the cleaning machinery—separators, conveyors, dust collectors. For the elevator legs, car puller and exhaust fans, individual motors may be used.

WHEN CENTRAL STATION electric service is purchased, the cost of power is directly proportional to the amount of work performed. There are many other advantages besides that of economy; electric power minimizes fire hazard, and helps to reduce insurance rates. In new mills, electric drive reduces cost of construction by eliminating long lines of shafting, supports, hangers, etc. Induction motors may be installed wherever desired—on floor, walls or ceiling.

Investigate the merits of electric power. We will study your power problems and base our recommendation on the facts obtained.

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

Mrs. Norrell and I attended the baccalaureate services at Fitzhugh Sunday night. I always feel at home at Fitzhugh for during my residence of 18 years in Pontotoc county the people of Fitzhugh have in many ways proved their friendship to my paper. When I took charge of the old Ada Weekly Democrat I had two subscribers at Fitzhugh but after a few visits down there and with the aid of some good friends I built up a list of gratifying proportions. The friends who stood by me in those days when I was a stranger in Pontotoc county and it looked like my head was certain to go under have always held a warm place in my heart.

The Fitzhugh people take a great pride in their school. They have a commodious brick building and their school ranks with the first of the county.

Fitzhugh is located in one of the best farming sections of the county and several farmers around there have for several years bred fine hogs. The small grain crop looks quite promising just now but the cold weather has held back cotton and corn considerably.

Latta school patrons have put a substantial hog proof fence around their school building. It greatly improves the appearance of the property and will make possible a beautiful campus within a few years.

Some twenty-odd bee keepers met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Ada Saturday afternoon and decided to reorganize the county association. J. S. Duval of Oakman was elected president, R. F. Wilbourne, vice-president, and A. T. Watson, secretary. A committee was appointed to draft by-laws for the organization and it was instructed to report at the next meeting of the association which was set for Saturday afternoon, May 31, at 1 o'clock.

A number of subjects of interest were discussed and it was the opinion of the most successful ones that if the bee business of this county is to amount to much there must be a larger acreage of clover which is in itself a profitable crop. It was also brought out that there are too many bees in Ada for the range now afforded and that bee keepers in town will have to move their hives to the country where they will have more range if they expect much honey. The matter of a club exhibit at the state fair was left open for the present, since no one knows at this time whether the honey will be worth exhibiting.

It was decided to ask the bee keepers of the state to hold their meeting here in July. This will prove something worth while for people who are interested in the subject for with some experts here a broad opportunity to learn many valuable facts will be presented.

The bee keepers expressed the opinion at the meeting of Saturday that just now owing to unfavorable weather and heavy broods many hives of bees are short of feed and need some help to get along until the honey flow is over. A syrup should be made of white sugar about half sugar and half water.

This should be made with warm water and perhaps kept on the stove a few minutes but not allowed to come to a boil. While slightly warm it should be put in a vessel and this set inside a super from which some of the frames have been removed for the time being. To prevent the bees from drowning a stick or tow should be placed in the vessel so that the bees that happen to fall in may crawl out.

The Berry Patch After Fruiting

After the fruit has been gathered from all the bushes they should be prepared for the season's growth for this will be the time when the next crop is in preparation. Strawberries raspberries, and blackberries will be benefited by a liberal feeding immediately following the last picking. We always pull the mulch away, distribute some poultry manure and some bonemeal if we have it ready, and hoe the space between the strawberry rows well, after which the mulch is replaced. This is easily done by clearing first a yard or so and treating it, then pulling the mulch from the next yard or two over this and fertilize and cultivating that, an so on. Blackberries and raspberries should have the old fruiting canes removed, but after they are well established we never cultivate, simply giving a topdressing of manure each winter and after fruiting pulling away the mulch from the rows and spreading a light covering of poultry manure with bonemeal added and replacing the mulch. The rotted old mulch will make a good medium in which to stir the fertilizer and after a few days there will be a good depth of this below the course mulch, which must be kept deep enough to prevent the hot sun injuring the roots which come up close under the rotted undermulch. As fast as the new canes reach a height of eighteen inches to two feet the tips are pinched out to cause branching and these branches pinched back when it is necessary to keep the bush compact and with level top that will make for easy picking.

LONDON—Some members of the Skiff Rowing Association are shocked at the costumes, or lack of them, worn by women at regattas. At the annual meeting of the association it was announced that complaints had been received of several rowing women wearing too scanty attire, being stockinged, with shorts or skirts only reaching half-way down the thighs.

There is apparently no objection, said an official, to this apparel while the girls are in the boats, but when walking about the tow path or in the enclosure more clothing should be adopted.

Airplane traffic asked for in central Europe last year was approximately four times greater than the services could accommodate.

LIBERTY BELL ON WHEELS TO LESSEN RISK BY FIRE

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—The Liberty Bell, emblem of American independence, has been effectually safeguarded by being mounted on wheels for quick removal from Independence Hall in case of fire.

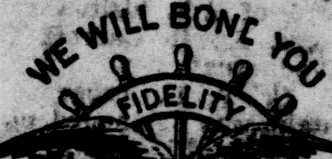

The bell, according to the regulations worked out, is the first article in the building to be removed if fire breaks out. The guards have been trained by repeated drills in the rapid moving of the chime.

In order to make doubly certain that no fire can break out in the building, a fixed rule prohibits placing of any rubbish in the basement. The heating plant has been removed to a specially built cellar apart from the hall, installation of an automatic sprinkling system is under way.

"Name the Man!" the first Victor Seastrom production since that director came to the Goldwyn studios from Sweden, opens Monday at the American theatre.

Included in the cast are Conrad Nagel, Mae Busch, Patsy Ruth Miller, Hobart Bosworth, Creighton Hall, DeWitt C. Jennings, Evelyn Seelie and many other well-known players.

The story was adapted to the screen by Paul Bern, from the novel entitled, "The Master of Man" by Sir Hall Caine, and was Victor Seastrom's first production under a contract the Swedish director signed with the Goldwyn studios.

The entire story is set on the Isle of Man, and deals with the youthful Deane, or Judge of the island, and the trial of the girl whom he had wronged for the murder of her child.

The picture is declared one of the most dramatic and emotional ever filmed, and in it, Miss Busch and Mr. Nagel rise to their greatest emotional heights.

The picture was enthusiastically acclaimed by critics and public and had long runs at large theatres in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco and other of the largest cities in the United States.

DURANT BURIED UNDER HEAVY DELUGE OF HITTING; FAIN IS HERO WITH HOMER OVER FENCE

A hereditary enemy was routed yesterday and Ada Independents found themselves on the winning side in a prize slugfest in which Durant failed to swat as effectively and Ada won by a final counting of 14 to 5.

Johnnie Fain, Ada second sacker redeemed his two errors when he cracked the old pill over the left field wall for the first fair ball outside the park this season and scored Lee in front of him. The ball sailed clearly several feet over the fence and is without question the longest rap of the season.

L. Waner, Rutledge and Lee bore stellar roles in the art of handling the stick, each securing three hits each. Fain claimed a double besides his homer.

Durant was unable to cope with Burnett's deliveries until the eighth inning and then landed on his for a total of four hits and five runs, before Davis could come to the rescue and stem the tide. Davis was effective and quieted down the prospective rally.

Ada batsmen pounded the old apple to all corners of the lot in persistent repetition, scoring being made in the second, fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth innings.

Ada's first rally came in the second inning when Rutledge was hit by a pitched ball and scored on Lee's triple to deep right. Lee later scoring on an error of Funk's grounded. Fain's homer started the second rally in the fourth inning.

Ada batsmen pounded B. Roberts Durant pitcher, for a total of 16 hits, while Burnett and Davis kept the hitting down to seven safe raps for Durant.

First Inning
DURANT—Potts was safe on an error at short. Paretain was out, pitcher to first. Herman singled to right, Potts going to third. Herman stole second. Cressell hit to pitcher and Potts was caught at home. Herman was called out at third. One hit, no runs, one error.

ADA—Kirkpatrick flied out to leftfield. R. Waner was out when Cresswell handled his hot liner to short. L. Waner was out, pitcher to first. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Second Inning
DURANT—A. Roberts out, third to first. Park was safe on Fain's error at second. Park was forced out at second on Higgins grounder to short. Higgins followed out on a forced play when Palmer hit to short. No hits, no runs, one error.

ADA—Rutledge was hit by pitched ball. Lee tripled, scoring Rutledge. Page flied out to center. Fain struck out. Funk was safe on an error at second while Lee scored. Burnett singled. Funk going to third. Funk was caught out at third. Two hits, to runs, two errors.

Third Inning
DURANT—B. Roberts flied out in field. Potts went out, third to first. Paretain followed in the same manner. No hits, no runs, no errors.

ADA—Kirkpatrick flied out to left. R. Waner fouled out and L. Waner retired the side on a play from pitcher to first. No hits, no runs, no errors.

Fourth Inning
DURANT—Herman flied out to center. Cresswell went out, third to first. A. Roberts flied out to third. No hit, no runs, no errors.

ADA—Butler flied out and went to third on a wild throw from center. Lee singled scoring Rutledge. Page flied out to left. Fain hit a homer over the leftfield fence for the first four-base clout of the season on the local diamond, scoring Lee before him. Funk flied out to left field. Burnett struck out. Three hits, three runs, one error.

Fifth Inning
DURANT—Park singled. Higgins was stopped in the air route to Fain. Palmer fouled out to Kirk. B. Roberts was out, second to first. One hit, no runs, no errors.

ADA—Kirk whiffed at three. R. Waner flied out to center. L. Waner singled and went to second on an error in left. Rutledge walked. Lee walked. Page grounded out to first. One hit, no runs, one error.

Sixth Inning
DURANT—Potts flied out to left. Paretain was hit by a pitched ball. Herman forced Paretain at second. Cressell struck out. No hits, no runs, no errors.

ADA—Fain doubled. Kaiser struck out. Burnett was safe on an error at second and Fain went to third. Burnett stole second. Fain scored on Kirk's fly to right. R. Waner singled, scoring Burnett. L. Waner doubled scoring R. Waner, but is caught out when he overruns second. Three hits, three runs, one error.

Seventh Inning
DURANT—A. Roberts out, short to first. Park singled. Higgins was out, pitcher to first. Palmer flied out to left. One hit, no runs, no errors.

Eighth Inning
DURANT—B. Roberts was safe on Fain's error. Potts walked. Paretain doubled, scoring B. Roberts. Herman was safe on an infield hit. Cresswell singled scoring Potts and Paretain. A. Roberts walked (Davis takes mound for Ada). Park struck out. Higgins singled scoring Herman and Cresswell and sending A. Roberts to third. Philpott flied out to second and Higgins is caught off first. Four hits, five runs, one error.

ADA—R. Waner struck out. L. Waner singled and Rutledge and Lee followed with singles. Page was safe on an error and L. Waner scored. Fain grounded to pitcher forcing Rutledge at home. Kaiser sacrificed and Lee and Page scored on a wild throw to first. Davis flied out to left. Three hits, four runs, two errors.

Ninth Inning
DURANT—B. Roberts was out, short to first. Potts struck out. Paretain flied out to center. No hits, no runs, no errors.

In the contest between patrols in the First Baptist church troop No. 2, the Wolf patrol won the free camping trip. The patrol leader of this patrol is Earl Yates and this patrol actually got together as a patrol and studied.

Between troops 7 and 9 and patrols, the Owl patrol led by Owen Izzard, won over troop 9 patrol. This camping trip is also offered by the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church. The Crow patrol of troop 4, Wayne Waddington, patrol leader, won the free camping trip offered by the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church.

In the contest between patrols of the troops 10 and 3, the winners were the Crow patrol of troop 3, Ora Russell, patrol leader. This camping trip is offered by the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church.

Two patrols of troop 7 have won free camping trips. The Beaver patrol, Carl Ward, patrol leader, won it on the exhibit and the Owl patrol on the Life of Christ.

The free camping trip offered by the Bible class of the First Methodist church has not been decided as yet.

The judges have not had time yet to decide which scouts have won the individual prizes.

The standing of patrols in regard to grades in this contest is as follows: The Owl patrol of troop 7 had an average grade of 70 2-9, as to schools, College training school and Junior high scouts simply as a school from the standpoint of the scouts who took the examination on the Life of Christ, had the highest grade. The average for this school was 782-3; Glenwood school was second with 77 1-11.

Scoutmaster Claude McLean and the scout executive left Friday morning for Tulsa where they will attend a scoutmasters school being conducted for Region 9 of Oklahoma and Texas.

Camp Director L. L. McDonald of New York City will be present to give a series of talks and addresses on camping.

A school will be conducted for three days on scout craft.

A school for scoutmasters will be conducted here soon.

Troop 4 with Scoutmaster Weeks left by truck Saturday afternoon for Boggy to spend a day and night in camp.

"NAME THE MAN" AT THE AMERICAN

"Name the Man!" a screen drama of great emotional intensity, which is interesting not only in its qualities as a photoplay, but also because it is the first picture to be made in America by Victor Seastrom, noted Swedish director, opens tonight at the American theatre.

The picture is from the latest novel by Sir Hall Caine, "The Master of Man," and follows the original story faithfully. Mr. Seastrom has lived up to his European reputation of being one of the ablest directors of pictures. "Name the Man!" is a truly great picture with a heart appeal from which even the most callous cannot escape. Mr. Seastrom makes the films an art as well as an entertainment.

Mae Busch, as Bessie Collier, the girl who is ejected from her home by a brutal step-father, and is wronged by the youthful judge, rises to what is considered her greatest emotional piece of acting. Conrad Nagel, as the youthful judge gives a very finished performance, and the large cast, including Patsy Ruth Miller, Creighton Hale, Hobart Bosworth, De Witt C. Jennings, Evelyn Seelie and others, support the principal players admirably.

The entire story is set on the tiny Isle of Man, off the coast of England, and is fully as powerful a novel as "The Christian." Sir Hall Caine's best known novel.

Civic League Club House.

Roff, and especially the Civic League, is justly proud of its new club house. It is not only a pretty building architecturally plain, essentially neat, compact, but an evidence of what a few determined women may accomplish. This is the story:

About seventeen years ago a few Roff women organized, calling themselves the Pioneer Reading Club. Plans for collecting a library were formed. A book shower was given at the home of one of the members and thirty-five books were donated on this occasion. Then a few volumes were purchased each month. Next a lot was bought. Later a small room was moved to this lot, and was used as a library. Dinners were given. The club was the winner of $100.00 in a contest. Slowly, surely funds are added until recently the beautiful little building was turned over to its owners, the fruit of all their hopes and longings in that line.

The library and kitchenette open off of the main room to the north and are entered thru French doors. The building committee, Mesdames Sloan Reese, Garland Morton, John Roff, C. H. Smith and Johns are the recipients of hearty congratulations.

FILIPINO LABOR THORN IN HAWAII

Foreign Labor Continues to Be Menace to Hawaiian People

(By the Associated Press)

HONOLULU—Unless means are devised to instruct Filipinos, a large number of whom have been brought to Hawaii by the sugar planters' association, in American standards and customs, the territory will face a menace such as no other community has encountered, H. W. Metcalf, superintendent of the Filipino center of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, has told the Chamber of Commerce here.

Failure to take action previously along these lines is the direct cause of the present strike of some Filipino plantation laborers, Mr. Metcalf said. The only way to control the large Filipino population would be largely through Filipino leadership, and Filipinos should be trained for this purpose, he continued.

Filipinos come to Hawaii with no conception of the value of money, and look upon work as punishment, and not as a necessity to sustain life, the speaker continued. He advocated the employment of 20 Filipinos by leading commercial concerns so that they might be trained, and in turn train their countrymen later. He said they should be started in the lowest positions at small pay and be permitted to develop gradually.

"In this way it would be possible to produce Filipino leaders who would understand the customs, ideals and practices of the country in which they live. When it is considered that the life of Filipinos in their homeland is entirely different in every respect from their existence here, it is a marvel to me that these men have adapted themselves to local conditions as well as they have."

Mr. Metcalf said that the Filipinos now compose the second largest racial group in the territory, being led only by the Japanese.

Meal made from white oak acorns was one of the principal foods of the North American Indians.

About 20,000,000 fans have filed complaints about interference with the department of commerce.

THERE are thousands of women who wonder why their complexions do not improve in spite of all the face treatments they use. They should not continue to wonder. Eruptions come from blood impurities and a lack of rich blood-cells. S.S.S. is acknowledged to be one of the most powerful, rapid and effective blood cleansers known. S.S.S. builds new blood-cells. This is why S.S.S. routs out of your system the impurities which cause boils, pimples, blackheads, acne, blotches, eczema, tetter, rash. S.S.S. is a remarkable flesh-builder. That's why underweight people can quickly build up their lost flesh, get back their normal weight, pink, plump cheeks, bright eyes, and "pep."

FOR RENT—Five-room modern house furnished; garden ready to use and garage go with house; price $30 per month. Phone 749-J. 5-14-23

This little ad run one day at a cost of 33 cents brought 15 prospects and the house was rented. The ad was put in for three days, but had to be taken out after the first insertion. Too much trouble to answer other calls.

FOR SALE—Ford roadster, good condition, cheap. Walter Goynes, First National Bank. 5-14-24

This little ad sold the car and the owner says he could have sold a half dozen more.
